

Jedi Limousine Unleashed

This is a top down style game in which the player is a limo and has to chase to pedestrians and kill them, their blood fuels your engine. The aim of the game is to survive, as the game progresses the players fuel level will drop and the player must run over people to fuel up. The pedestrians run away from the limo when they are close enough. But if someone is killed the police will come to investigate, if they see you they will chase you. If the police catch you, you lose the game
